Alain Frix is based in Brussels, Belgium, and runs his own consulting firm, Allchemix BV, founded in 2020. He holds a master's degree in biology from the University of Brussels and a postgraduate degree in management from Solvay Business School.

With over 35 years of experience in the perfumery and aromatic ingredients sector, Alain has worked with a diverse range of products, including forestry materials like turpentine, aromatic plants, essential oils, and petrochemicals. His broad commercial experience with multinational companies has enabled him to develop a vast global network within the fragrance, flavour, and cosmetics sectors. His expertise in both natural and synthetic ingredients makes him a trusted figure among manufacturers, producers, processors, formulators, and regulatory experts.

Through Allchemix BV, Alain continues to channel his passion by advising a carefully selected portfolio of companies across the entire value chain, from forestry and natural or synthetic ingredient producers to compounders, consumer goods manufacturers, and brands. Allchemix BV is an active member of several industry associations. He has been elected as one of the board directors of the French Perfumers Society (Société Française des Parfumeurs – SFP). He also currently serves on IFEAT's Panel of Experts, after having held several leadership roles, notably Chair of the IFEAT Marrakech 2010 Conference, Chair of the IFEAT Executive Committee, and Chair of its Scientific Committee on two occasions.

Alain has visited numerous synthetic ingredient manufacturing facilities and has travelled extensively to remote regions to meet farmers and distillers working with aromatic crops. In addition, he regularly contributes to industry publications, where he openly shares his insights on the sector's dynamics and the challenges it faces.
